Work starts at Victory Park Caravan Park Wilcannia

Central Darling Shire Council is pleased to advise that work has started at the Victory Park Caravan Park at Wilcannia. A new amenities block is being built at the park.

This is a much-needed project, and it was exciting to see the site pegged out with the long-awaited work underway.

The project will include an accessible bathroom, family bathroom and laundry, male and female accessible showers, and toilets. Work will also include new concrete footpaths surrounding the amenity block, new roof, and stormwater drains.

Once complete it is hoped that the new amenities will help boost tourism in the region because new and improved caravan park facilities will encourage visitors to stay longer and spend more time in the area.

The work is being funded by a grant of $489,665 from the Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water. Council thanks the Australian Government for the funding support, without it the project would not be possible.
