MEDIA RELEASE

Flood Recovery – Phone for Assistance

With the floodwaters starting to recede Central Darling Shire Council, NSW Reconstruction Authority and other Emergency Services agencies are moving into flood recovery mode.

As part of this process washout, clean-up and pump out of septic tank procedures will be taking place for homes located within the Menindee Floodplain area. People will need to be home at the time of the work to be done.

Authorities are contacting people to let them know about this support. However, not everyone has a phone or email contact listed.

Because the assistance needs to happen as soon as it can be arranged, for the benefit of residents, Council is asking for community assistance to help let everyone know about this important help and support.

If anyone in the Menindee Floodplain area has not been contacted by authorities and requires clean-up assistance, could they please get in touch with Council by phoning on 088083 8900 or emailing council@centralindarling.nsw.gov.au
